Workshop Overview

Nursing faculty continue to explore methods to enhance student learning. Today's students learn in unique ways and demand new methods to foster clinical judgment and NCLEX® success. This one-day workshop will focus on how students study and learn, along with the value of tailored remediation strategies to augment learning. Basic principles of remediation will be presented. Personalized and curricular-based remediation strategies to improve NCLEX® scores, critical thinking, and clinical judgment will be addressed. Faculty will be charged with proposing individual or organizational plans for remediation to enhance student learning and success.

Registration fee includes program, continental breakfast, and lunch.

Learner Outcomes/Objectives

- Analyze the process of learning and the benefits of remediation to enhance student success.
- Identify the principles of remediation and their application to nursing education.
- Explore individual and curricular remediation strategies to enhance clinical judgment.
- Reflect on the application of remediation strategies to individual courses and organizational curricula.
